Dear Mr. Chapman.

About a year ago a woman of some skill
in sufficiency and among her effects are three gold coins, or apparently coins - although no numeral appears on them - and they are evidently (American).

There is a figure on each one of a priest or a christ or something like that some marks like wreath, and a three or five fingered candlestick or tree.

They are very crude & irregular in stamping
about the size of a dime, though thicker.

I am entirely unfamiliar with foreign coins and am at a loss to tell you what they are,
and if they are coins I would like to own one.

If they were nearer I would ring on - but I cannot do so.

Can you make anything of it or not?

Very truly

(C. H. Chapman)
